28th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Thought for the Week:

When something bad happens to you, are you tempted to think “Maybe I deserve this; maybe God is punishing me because of some sin I have committed”? Or maybe a similar thought crosses our mind when we hear about a friend who has just suffered a loss. This line of thinking may even be a way to make sense out of natural disasters like hurricanes or earthquakes. We don’t always understand why God allows such thing to happen. But this we know for sure: we don’t have a vengeful God. He isn’t counting up our sins, waiting to strike us down when we exceed some limit. You are not a sinner who deserves punishment. As Pope Francis said about himself, you are a sinner whom the Lord has looked upon with mercy. That’s the good news of the gospel! (The Word Among Us - Oct. 2018)
